The Senatorial Campaign.

COLUMBIA, July 18 .- The first two weeks of the State Senatorial campaign have passed, and eleven campaign meetings have been held in the various counties of the State. There are twenty-nine meetings yet to be held, and it is thus seen that the campaign has really but just begun. It is certainly too early to attempt to say anything as to the results of the campaign work. All the speakers, save Duncan, have been on the stump and talked to the people, but the crowds have been small thus far. Some votes may have been changed by what the candidates have had to say, but how many and the character of the changes are unknown quantities. Col. Irby's friends say that he has been making a very good mpression, although he has been devotng more time to jokes and a few hard slaps in various directions than he has to argument on national issues. Ex-Gover-nor Evans has been making very good arguments on the real issues. Mr. May-field sticks to his attack on the dispensary law, and now an interesting issue has been raised between himself and Governor Ellerbe as to what the latter said to him about the formation of a new political party in South Carolina. Sena-tor McLaurin is said to be holding his own, making strong arguments upon the tariff. He is considered the most practical speaker of all the candidates so far in the field. Mr. Duncan has now completed the trial of the case which has been keeping him in Columbia since the campaign opened, and it is just possible that he will take the stump at Winnsboro tomorrow or wait until Tuesday, when the party will speak in Columbia. It is generally thought that Mr. Duncan will con-fine his speeches to arguments upon the tariff issue. He will, of course, make the most of his victory before Judge Benet ast week upon the jurisdiction issue. lege of running in the primary and ap-pearing on the stump as a candidate. It is considered practically certain that he will not be allowed to stand in the primary election. He has intimated, how-ever, that he will appeal to the whole Democracy from State Chairman Tompkins' decision, and this is taken to mean that he will be a candidate for election before the General Assembly next winter.

After the Columbia meeting the party will visit Orangeburg, Dorchester and Bamberg counties this week, and the week following they will go to the upcountry, continuing the meetings in that section until they come back to the Pee-

Dee section for the finish.

To day three of the candidates are in Columbia—Senator McLaurin, Mr. May-Columbia—Senator McLaurin, Mr. May-field and Mr. Duncan. Senator McLaurin is quartered at the Grand Central Hotel, where he has been visited by many of his political friends. To-day he dined, in company with several others, with the Governor's family at the Executive manout. The bill will probably pass the Sension. When I asked him to-day for an expression as to the results of the cam-paign thus far and his satisfaction or dis-satisfaction with them, he said that he ate promptly and Congress will adjourn was taking a day of rest, and declined to have anything whatever to say. I also asked Mr. Mayfield for a similar expression. He stated that he was very much tired out ith his campaign work, and was taking a day of complete rest; he did not care to have a word to say.

Asked about this, Governor Ellerbeer pressed great surprise that Mr. Mayfield should have made such a statement. He said that Mayfield came into his office and gave information of his intention to be a Senatorial candidate. Mayfield then asked the Governor what course he would pursue, desiring to know if the Governor, because of his appointment of McLaurin. was going to make any special effort to secure his election.

Governor Ellerbe replied that while than be idle, you can make up your McLaurin was in the Senate by virtue of mind that he amounts to something. The not bias him and he would let the Senatorial race run its own course, provided, however, none of the candidates assailed him and his Administration, in which the right kind of stuff to cut much of a case he would be obliged for self-preservation to oppose the man who had dragged him into a campaign in which he had no part or parcel. To this, of course, Mr. Mayfield could make no objection. In a friendly and confidential way, the Governor informed Mayfield he had heard it was his intention to make the race as an old or original Reformer and ttempt to draw the factional lines in order to profit by a bitter division of the people. As a friend he advised him not to pursue such a policy, stating his belief that the best people of the State were getswarming with tramps, who refuse to ting together, irrespective of past factional differences, and that public sentiment would not approve an effort to divide the white voters of South Carolina into two hostile camps.

Senator Tillman's Dispensary Law.

Senator Tillman's Dispensary bill has passed the Senate, but it will hardly pass the House. If it should pass both Houses, however, and be approved by the President, we are satisfied that it will not pass people from the tyranny and oppression of factional legislation. The bill pro-vides that all fermented, distilled or othfect of the laws of such State, and shall not be exempt by reason of being introwithin its borders, by whomsoeve produced and for whatever use imported That appears to be "horse high, bull strong and pig tight," and it would probably stand but for the fact that the provision of the Constitution controlling the commerce of the States cannot be set a. le by an act of Congress. A Card from Leading Negroes. Editors Intelligencer: As law-abiding citizens, and to some extent leaders of our people, we feel it our imperative duty o show to the world our unanimous condemnation of the crime attempted to be committed recently in our city. We have mothers, daughters and sisters whose virtue and chastity are sacred, and we would not, for one moment, shield or protect any person guilty of such a foul deed m the full extent of the law. We know that the moral standard of many of our people is not as high as it should be, but we know scores of the better class who would defend a white or colored woman. even though it cost their lives, in such a We would have gladly assisted in trying to bring the guilty one to justice in this case or any other, as some one else may become his victim. We have been asked why we did not assist, and to some extent condemned for remaining silent. This request and condemnation is not ess when you first see it, but when coolly and wisely considered we think our action is in keeping with the law of the land. Had either or all of us assisted, and had we been successful in capturing the accused, there is no doubt n our minds from the excited condition of the greater portion of the citizens that ne would have been hanged to the first limb or shot to death. This is not bring-ing the prisoner to justice. Hence we would become murderers and stand guilty before a just God. We would be no less guilty than the man that pulled at the end of the rope or the one that perforated his body with lead. We know there were many cool, law-abiding white citizens who would not think of participating in such a crime, but there were many others infuriated with passion that would not be controlled at that time. Many times have we seen municipal and backed up by State and county officials, cool heads, overpowered by the madened crowd and the prisoner lynched. This we feel is very unjust, and is educating and leading the young men of our great and grand county into a very dangerous custom, as it leads mobs to resort to lynch law for crimes of less magnitude. We also feel that the moral standard of scores of our people is so high that they idea of harboring or secreting the accuse in their homes, and as the officers made no exceptions, but searched all of our homes, regardless of the good name we have been trying to build up during our life time, hence we were all placed on the same basis with the rabble of the city. We feel that it does a great injustice to the race to censure them all for the crimes of ome lawless individuals. We again wish to reassert our condemnation of such crimes, and place ourselves on record as being willing to assist in bringing all rapists to speedy trial and, if found guilty, punished by the law of

South Carolina College Entrance Examinations.

There will be held at each County seat in the State on August 13th, under the direction of County Superintendents of Education, an entrance examination for students, male and female, who may wish to enter the South Carolina College. This is done for the convenience of the above all to give opportunity to any appli-cants who may fail to pass any part of the examination to review such study during the month of September, and to try the examination at the College, September 28-29, when the usual entrance examinations

This plan promises to be a great contrustees, the College authorities and all connected therewith under the surgeon's venience to the patrons of the College, and great aid to backward students, enabling ceeds to offer them up as a sacrifice—a part, fittingly, upon "Mount Ignorance" and a part upon "Mount Imbecility." But the unkindest cut of all is the suggestion hem to take advantage really of two entrance examinations, with an interval to study up on any branch in which they may be deficient. The applicants will be informed by the 26th of August how they have passed, and fever at the College) "and let fathers and mothers come, and, after weary days and nights of ceaseless vigils, and with bleedwhat they need to study further, and will be advised on all matters relative to their expected entrance into the College. At the same time and places competitive examinations will be held for Norma Scholarships, two of which are awarded in each County of the State. These carry with them the remission of fees to the amount of $50.

Due We. 3. C., July 19th, 1897. Home Matters in Washington.

Washington, July 15.—Senator Till-man succeeded to-day in passing his dis-pensary bill through the Senate without objection. This bill provides that all fermented, distilled or other liquor trans-ported into any State or Territory for use, consumption or sale shall be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such State, and shall not be exempt by reason of being introduced in original pakages for private use or otherwise, and each State shall have absolute control of such liquors within its borders, by whomsoever produced and for whatever use imported: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as affecting the internal revenue laws of the United States or of liquors in transit through such States. The general effect of the bill is to carry out the provisions of the South Carolina dispensary law, notwithstanding the numerous decisions obnoxious to the enforcement of said law. The bill passed the Senate without a word of discussion by unanimous consent. It was reported from the commerce committee more than a month ago, and Senator Tillman has been industriously at work upon it ever since. The trouble will come when the attempt is made to pass it through the House. Senator Tillman admits that he hardly expects to get the House to pass upon it during the present session, but he looks for favorable action next winter. The position of the bill is improved by its passage through the Senate, although many bills have falled to become laws af-

Senator Bacon says the House conferees are making a stubborn night against free cotton bagging and free cotton ties, and the friends of the Senate amendment will have a hard fight to keep those articles off the dutiable list. The Senate conferees insist that these articles shall be on the free list, and the question may have to be fought out in open session again. Senator Bacon is of the opinion that the House will finally yield to the Senate on these items.

He says he has every reason to believe that the duty on raw cotton imposed by the Senate will stand.—Special to News

Marvellous Results

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no

Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results," Trial bottles free at Hill-Orr Drug Co. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

AN ATTRACTIVE STORY.

It was one of these hot Summer days in June-I now recall the time exactlyit was June, 1897. The crowd was gathered about where formerly stood a tall pine, just south of Anderson County's venerable Court House. That something out of the ordinary was transpiring was evidenced by the jam and push. Those on the outer circle were scrambling to get inside, while those on the inner circle conceded their ground reluctantly. Useless to say

t, we joined the PUSH. The centre of attraction was a gentleman of ordinary appearance, weighing about one hundred and fifty. To say there was nothing in the appearance of the man to attract special attention is putting it mild, but to listen to his tale of woe would touch a sympathetic chord in the most callous nature. This is the strain of his
